

In the News... Timothy N. Kyper, PE

Congratulations to Tim Kyper! On October 13, 2010, Tim was selected to the prestigious Academy of Fellows, of the Society of American Military Engineers (SAME). Tim, now part of a rare group of individuals, is one of less than 800 named-Fellows in over 25,000 SAME members. Selection as a Fellow is a great honor, and represents an important milestone in Tim's professional career.

Tim joined DiGioia Gray in 2009, as an Associate of the firm and is the Manager of the Coal Combustion Products (CCP) Group. He brings over 25 years of consulting engineering experience to DiGioia Gray. His professional experience includes work on more than 20 solid waste landfills or impoundments, dams and other structures, including but not limited to bridges, culverts, flood control levees as well as numerous land development projects in more than a dozen states.

Currently, Tim is also an adjunct instructor at Carnegie Mellon University in the Civil and Environmental Engineering Dept. He earned his BS and MS in Civil Engineering at Lehigh University. In addition to being an active member in SAME, Tim is a member of ASCE, and ASHE and was recognized as Professional of the Year in 2007 by the Pittsburgh Post of SAME.

Please join us in congratulating Tim on this recognition and wish him the best as he continues to make a positive contribution to the field.
